

Khalid B. MAMEDOV

REFINED METHODS FOR INVESTIGATION OF DEFLECTED MODE OF ADJOINT STRUCTURAL ELEMENTS OF SHELL

Abstract

Deflected mode of shell structural elements of complicate meridian form is investigated. On an example of spectral segment and circular plate a comparative analysis of other models is given in particular, when the reduction of a shell and application of models close to Winkler-Fouss model is ignored.