Abstract

The unstable flow of the low-pressible liquid under the gravity is considered. The uniqueness and existence theorems are proved and the classical solution constructed using Fourier method.