

Abstract

The concept of generalization of the n -th order derivative for square-summable functions on Hilbert space with Gauss measure is considered. The necessary and sufficient condition for existence of generalization of derivative for some class of square summable functions is obtained.